Monthly Energies

If a room is active (entry, living, dining, family, kitchen, office) use information indicated with a sun.

"Sun" energies influence External Expressions,
Outward Success & Finances.

If room is quiet (bedroom or meditation) use information indicated with a moon.

"Moon" energies influence Relationships,
Family Harmony, Health & Internal Expressions.

Even though the specific quiet (moon) or active (sun) energy takes precedence depending on the activity of an area, both energies in combination still influence each sector.

The number before each energetic description comes from Feng Shui formulas. Because I have provided result-based suggestions, you do not need to understand the numbers to benefit.

If interested in learning about Flying Star numbers, I explain them in my 9-week Home Study Master's Course (Secrets #8 & #9).

Decorative Suggestions for the Monthly Map

For Ideal Monthly Feng Shui, smaller, "quick-to-move" table-top accessories are perfect for Monthly and Yearly activators as compared to the "Design Once" (for Natal - Personal Success Map Energies) or "Larger Move-Yearly Items" (for Yearly Energies).

Monthly enhancers and reducers move around your home once a month. Use smaller decorative items such as a brass bowl or bronze table-top sculpture for Metal, a small plant, wood box or carving for Wood, a ceramic paperweight, carved-stone sculpture, or small crystals for Earth, and glass picture frame or crystal vase for Water, etcetera. If you would like more element ideas, visit HERE.

Helpful reminders:

1. "Design Once" Natal-Personal Success Map Feng Shui Items:

- Identify the most logical rooms for each task based upon architecture and Natal Energy Locations.
- Design the rooms and lay out your furniture to face good Personal Directions (and your loved one's energies) and good Natal Flying Stars .
- Use fabrics, flooring, and wall colors to reflect enhancing and/or reducing the Natal Energies as suggested on your "Personal Success Map" map.

(Visit HERE if you need extra design help with the colors, textures, and shapes of the elemental suggestions.)

- Place major art and accessories to enhance and/or reduce Natal Energies (as suggested) as well as activate Life-Desire Energies.
 - Combine and compromise with the best Yearly Energy solutions with all Natal Energies.
2. Move larger but easily relocatable Yearly Items such as suggested on your Yearly map with items that you love and enjoy.
 3. Smaller accessories, such as table-top items are quick to relocate on the 4th of every month

Considerations for Monthly Flying Star Energies

Front Door Location/House Facing Direction

Location & Direction: Your Monthly Flying Stars is ideal when you enter from a good Direction and through a good Location energy.

There is a very important difference between Direction and Location.

- Direction refers to the direction your house is facing. The direction your house is facing is determined by standing outside the front door, with your back on the door. Whichever direction your eyes are looking, is the direction your house is facing.

This house-facing directional active/sun energy is the Monthly energy that you bring in with you and carry throughout your home the same way an over-perfumed person leaves their scent trail. The energy that you enter and "musk your home" with influences all others.

Hopefully in this area you have favorable Natal energies. That is Excellent! Make them even stronger by activating them with the Monthly element suggestions.

If unfavorable:

- You can reduce the Monthly Energy with the Monthly Element suggestion. Please note that you cannot “cure” energy, their impact will be lessened but they will still exist.
- Better yet, it is best to enter through another door especially when unfavorable Monthly energy is combined with unfavorable Yearly and/or Natal-Personal Success Map energy. If unfavorable energies are very strong, please use another door during seriously unfavorable cycles to reduce the possibility of sickness and/or misfortune.

Remember, if you use an entry other than the front door (side or garage door), you will carry in the directional Monthly active/sun energy of the door that you use. Make sure it has good Natal (Personal Directions & Flying Stars), Yearly, and Monthly energies too!

- Location is the actual area or sector that you walk through.

SE	E	NE

House Facing East

ADVANCED EXAMPLE: Let’s say your house is facing East. If door is:

- In the center of your home’s front wall, you are walking through the East Location and carrying in the Directional energy of the East.

- On the right of your home's front wall, you are walking through the Northeast Location and carrying in the Directional energy of the East.
- On the left of your home's front wall, you are walking through the Southeast Location and carrying in the Directional energy of the East.

While both Location and Direction Energies holistically combine, Direction has the stronger influence.

When your architecture doesn't allow for both good Direction and Location:

- Prioritize Direction over Location.
- Depending on if your facing direction and entry location is favorable or unfavorable, activate or reduce it (respectively) with the suggestions on the Monthly map.

Never bring in the the Monthly energies of "Worst Personal Misfortunes and Sickness/Poor Health Energies" especially when they are also facing unfavorable:

- Natal-Personal Success Map Energies
- Yearly Flying Stars

Remember, you can reduce an unfavorable energy with the suggested reducing element and lessen its impact. The stronger the negative stars, the more it is suggested to use another entry until the bad cycle passes.

Conversely, and more fun, activate favorable energies with the enhancing suggested element.

Active Locations/Active Facing Directions
dining chair/dining room, TV chair/TV room, desk chair/office, stove/kitchen

There is a very important difference between sitting/standing Direction and Location.

- Direction refers to furniture placement. Direction is defined by the position of your body while standing or sitting.

Graphic: Courtesy of Buy your Home Smarter

Placement of your stove (stand facing good Monthly Flying Stars), desk chair, sofa, piano bench or any major furniture where you spend considerable time should be facing (to receive) good Monthly Energies "through your heart."

- Location is an actual space or a room.

*EXAMPLE: Your desk chair (furniture) is located in the office.
The office is the Location.*

All active rooms or areas that you spend considerable time such as your entry, kitchen, and office should be located in good active/sun Monthly Energies.

With the rooms that you use most often, make sure you sit facing and stand facing toward favorable Monthly Energies.

Ideal Example: Your desk chair should be positioned to face a good Monthly Direction and your office should be located in a good Monthly Location. Your chair and office should also be in good Natal and Yearly Directions and Locations.

Because no house is perfect, as with all aspects of Feng Shui, compromise may be required.

Always prioritize Facing Direction (instead of Location) because that is how you receive energy through your body.

Never sit or stand facing the Monthly energies of "Worst Personal Misfortunes and Sickness/Poor Health Energies" especially when they are also facing unfavorable:

- "Natal" Personal Success Map Energies
- Yearly Flying Stars

I am going to keep stressing this! You can reduce an unfavorable energy with the suggested reducing element and lessen its impact but you cannot eliminate it. The stronger the negative stars, the more it is suggested to sit in another location and/or face another direction until the bad cycle passes. Activate favorable energies with the enhancing suggested element.

Quiet Locations/Quiet Facing Directions
bed/bedroom, meditation chair/meditation room

There is a very important difference between sitting, sleeping, or laying down Direction and Location.

- Direction refers to furniture placement. Direction identifies the position of your body while:
- Sitting in your meditation chair, your chest should face (to receive energy from) a good Monthly Flying Star energy in front of you.

- Sleeping/laying down the top of your head or Crown Chakra should point toward a favorable Flying Star direction. (Learn about the Chakras in my 3rd book, The Essence of Feng Shui and ColorAlchemy E-Triumphs.)

In the meantime, I invite you to Enjoy this BONUS excerpt from The Essence of Feng Shui.)

Placement of any quiet furniture where you spend considerable time should be facing (while sitting) or head pointing (while laying down) good Directions so you will receive good Monthly Flying Star Energy.

Graphic: courtesy of Buy your Home Smarter

- Location is an actual space or a room.

EXAMPLE: Your bed (furniture) is located in the bedroom. The bedroom is the Location.

All quiet rooms or areas that you spend considerable time should be located in good quiet/moon Monthly Energies.

Ideal Example: Your bed should be positioned so your head is pointing toward a good Monthly Direction and your bedroom should be located in a good Monthly Location. Your bed and bedroom should also be in good Natal and Yearly Directions and Locations.

Because no house is perfect, as with all aspects of Feng Shui, compromise may be required.

Always prioritize Facing Direction (instead of Location) because that is how you receive energy through your body.

Never sit, sleep or lie down facing the Monthly energies of "Worst Personal Misfortunes and Sickness/Poor Health" Energies especially when they are also facing unfavorable:

- "Personal SuccessMap" Natal Energies
- Yearly Flying Stars

You are getting this right? I only want you to have good fortune! You can reduce an unfavorable energy with the suggested reducing element and lessen its impact. The stronger the negative stars, the more it is suggested to sleeping facing another direction and/or in another location until the bad cycle passes. activate favorable energies with the enhancing suggested element.

MASTER DISCREPANCY: As in all my teachings, I describe the inconsistencies between Feng Shui traditions to avoid confusion and to clarify theories. Most masters suggest that Monthly energy starts on February 4th with the solar or cycle of the sun. A few (like me) suggest that it changes with the lunar or moon cycle.

In my personal research to validate the most effective techniques, I am continuously evaluating Feng Shui nuances. With this discrepancy, I have observed hundreds of consultations and have enjoyed scientific and psychological reports on moon influences. For years, I payed close attention to how the moon cycle effects my body, my attitude, and those around me.

Because I feel that we are more effected by moon energy, I start the Monthly energy on each new moon. It is interesting to note that even most women's "moon" cycle (the Native American description for menstruation), flows with the full moon (if not on regulated birth control). I invite you to experiment with using both the Sun Schedule (4th of each month) and the Moon schedule. I found a moon phase web page to help you with the lunar-cycle dates. Pay attention to the sky too-it is fun and enlightening!

Suggestion: It is so easy to remember when the cycles change if you mark the days on your calendar. If you discover that the solar cycle is more effective, mark your calendar to move your items on the 4th of every month. Because I use the lunar, I purposefully select a calendar that shows the moon cycles so I can move my Monthly enhancers and reducers on the new moon.

Daily Energies

Daily energies can be activated in your most significant rooms in the same way that you move accessories throughout to enhance Monthly & Yearly energies.

While you do not have to consider the movement of the Daily energies, when you do, the days flow with greater ease.

Decorative Suggestions for the Daily Map

If you would like to move "Daily Objects" around your home or around important rooms such as your bedroom and/or office depending what you would like to accomplish, I recommend it. I know that when I take the time to move Daily accessories around my office, I am more relaxed, more creative, and more opportunities come my way.

To make it really easy and to save time, I select one horizontal surface located in an area with good Natal and Yearly Energy (such as the top of a lateral-file cabinet in my office). It takes just seconds to move the items around the top.

This is a great exercise to help teach you the way the energies move and keep you Conscious of the rooms to stay out of that day (if possible).

The following is what you could expect when Daily energies are in located in areas that you spend considerable time. Remember, the intensity of your Daily experience is also influenced by Natal, Yearly, and Monthly Energies.

The number before each energetic description comes from Feng Shui formulas. Because I have provided result-based suggestions, you do not need to understand the numbers to benefit.

If interested in learning about Flying Star numbers, I explain them in my 9-week Home Study Master's Course (Secrets #8 & #9).

- If unfavorable Daily Energy: It is a good day to lay low and stay out of that room.

If it is an area that you would normally spend considerable time and it has seriously bad Daily energy - Stay Out! Especially if it is in combination with Natal, Yearly and Monthly Energies (even though you should already have reduced the Yearly and/or Monthly negative energies) depending on severity, you should temporarily use a favorable area. Catch up on your "paperwork and ironing," take your mom out to lunch and a movie, or give the day to yourself and do something really fun.

- Depending on the Daily Energy, colors and/or "Feng Shui jewelry" can be worn to enhance or reduce the energy that is around you.

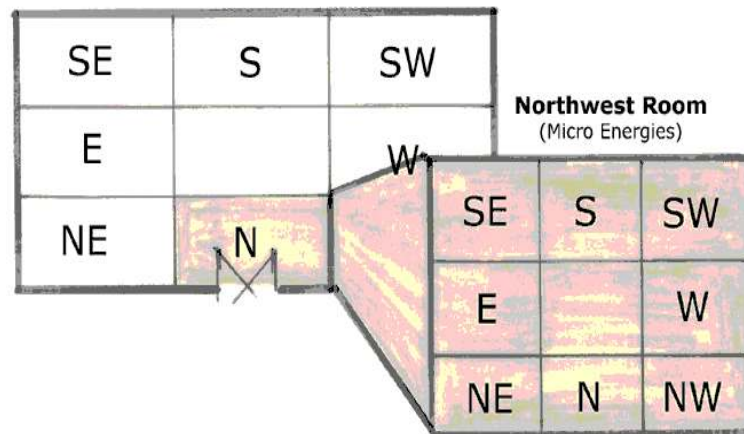

(Optional & Suggested) Advanced Detailing

Direction Elements

You may have wondered how to incorporate the Directional Elements (indicated by the colored edge of each directional sector). When you evaluate the Element enhancer or reducer for your Monthly Flying Star Energy, consider what that Element will also do to the Directional Element. Make sure that both considerations are supported. (Discover the details of the most important 5 Element theory in Jami Lin's: 9-week Home Study Master's Course - Secret #5 and Feng Shui Today)

Macro & Micro Detailing

With all maps, maximize your Feng Shui even further by using Micro Energies. Each room is a “mini map” in itself with exactly the same nine-directional locations and energies of your Monthly Energies (as well as your Natal-Personal Success Map Energies (Life Desires, Best Directions & Flying Stars) & Yearly Energies).

This graphic identifies how your home is divided into 9-equal areas and how each room can also be divided into 9-equal areas.

Each rectangle in the house is subdivided into each of the eight directions and center area too. Each room is directionally oriented in exactly the same way as your Monthly map. Directional Energy is always the same whether you are evaluating the Macro Energies (the entire house) or Micro Energies (each individual room). In other words, the South micro rectangle of each room has the Monthly energies of the South. Magnetic energy and compass direction are always consistent.

- Detail specific rooms, especially those used most often and most significant to what you want to accomplish (bedrooms, office, etc) using Monthly Macro and Micro as well as Yearly and Natal Energies.

EXAMPLE: If you have good Personal Directions and Flying Stars in the North, it is optimum to:

- Have your bedroom in the North room of the house (Macro Location).
- Have your bed located in the North area of the room (Micro Location).
- With your head pointing towards the North or the room (Micro Direction).

Final Suggestions

- If possible, adjust most significant furniture (desk, bed, stove-if possible, favorite dining and TV chair, etc) to sit/sleep in good Monthly, Yearly, and Natal Flying Star locations and to face good Monthly, Yearly, and Natal Monthly directions in each room.
- A few masters even suggest that by overlaying a micro-mini map on significant pieces of furniture you will enhance or reduce energies. Consider placing an appropriate enhancing or reducing desk accessories on your desk.
- Always combine Monthly map with Natal-Personal Success Map and, Yearly maps for a comprehensive reading and results the same way the masters do!

Spend time getting to know your Monthly map and how the energies influence your home. Play with your Daily Energies and benefit. You will find that you do have all the information that you need complete Monthly & Daily analyses. Experiment, track your successes, and most of all have fun!

Wishing you the BEST Feng Shui this month! From my heart to yours,

Love,
